

Michi is a Canadian singer, songwriter and recording artist. She is mixed race – half Korean and half Scottish. Michi began her vocal training at the age of 12, belonging to a number of choirs (jazz and chamber) throughout her youth. At 21, Michi was signed to an independent label in Vancouver, Canada where her debut single “Hysteria” landed publishing deals on European radio, Canadian television and American film.

Michi has collaborated with pop producers, folk bands and jazz musicians performing her original work, pop covers and jazz standards live in restaurants, bars, lounges and corporate events. Her voice is featured on a pop/EDM song currently rotating on “Top 40” radio stations across Canada called “Shooting Star”. She earned a publishing deal for another song she co-wrote for an up-and-coming artist to hit Canadian radio in 2017. Michi currently lives in Da Nang, Vietnam where she continues to make an impression in the Da Nang music scene alongside her music partner Keith Marlow.
